Red Bank, NJ (Vocus) June 8, 2010 -- Garden State Securities, Inc. (GSS), a full service independent brokerage firm , recently celebrated 30 years in business. Over the years, the firm's commitment to the financial success of its clients has allowed it to grow and prosper, despite the uncertain market conditions of recent years.

As GSS plans for a bright future, CEO Louis Perrotto is proud to announce the firm, formerly headquartered in Wall Township, has relocated to 328 Newman Springs Road, Red Bank, New Jersey. Perrotto says expanding the firm's retail presence in Red Bank is an exciting move for GSS.

Raymond Ambrosino, one of the firm's four partners, feels that "having an independent, unbiased platform has consistently separated GSS from other financial firms. We look forward to expanding our reach into the Red Bank area."

"We envision continued steady growth in the independent sector of the financial services industry," said Fred Haas, EVP of Business Development for GSS. "In the past eighteen months, GSS has added fifteen new independent branch offices across the country."

"Garden State Securities' Corporate Finance Team has raised over $65 million for both public and private companies since 2009," said Ernest Pellegrino, Director of Corporate Finance at GSS. "The Corporate Finance Department at GSS is on target to become a dominant investment banker for private companies and private investments in public entities with market capitalizations below $250 million."

The move consolidates three previous offices and brings together the firm's four partners, retail brokerage, investment banking, and business development teams. The new corporate office features 11,000 square feet of space to allow for expanded growth in the future.
